

We young people from three European countries demand:

Focus your attention on gender issues and be conscious of what could happen in the future! Create artworks with the aim of idealizing a new representation of gender equality where women and men have the same rights without discrimination. Focus on contributing to a society without gender violence and where men and women can freely choose their role. Denounce the norm that stereotypes persist in the future generations and create a new beginning.

Focus your attention on gender issues and be conscious of what is happening in the present. Create artworks with the aim of increasing awareness on gender equality. Denounce and display of inequality of gender-based violence, gender hypersexualization and fixed gender roles. Focus on overcoming gender stereotypes, considering the impact of art has on our society.

Focus your attention on gender issues and be conscious of what has happened in the past. Create artworks with the aim of learning from the past that remain in the past! Human society is changing. Denounce the advantage of men in society and how women fear judgement and had to hide behind male companions. Focus on the representation of a society where human beings do not display the pain of violence and discrimination normalized in the past. The progress achieved in gender equality: the contributions of women in the past.
